

PHOTOS: WATTFROUND PHOTOGRAPHY

Macaulay Jo, Matt Mills, Paul Newman, Andy Hilton, Kylie Hilton, Louise Ames, Eva Conibear and Rob Marchant

Guests enjoyed canapés served at The Forge

Louis Greenaway and Tom Bexter

Andy Hilton and Louise Ames (Hilton-Ames Ltd)

John Harvey and Jo Force (Stephens Scown)

Craig and Rebecca Cullen, Sara Watkins-Schmidt and Abigail Lilley

Will Carden and Louise Ames

Tom Bexter (Western Counties Roofing), Hannah Bexter (Beauty at Seventeen), Louis Greenaway (MJS)

Carly Fordy and Marc Megilly from Trevethan Distillery

Glen King and Ronnie Halden

Driven to success

A party was held at Winslade Manor, near Exeter, celebrating the rebranding of VIP executive chauffeur company Hilton-Ames and welcoming Louise Ames as a fellow director to Andy Hilton.

A hundred guests enjoyed delicious gin cocktails created and served by the team from world-class, multi-award-winning Cornish Trevethan Distillery, with complimentary drinks from the bar, and refreshments throughout the evening. Andy Hilton has run his executive luxury transport for over 15 years in Exeter, with six company-owned vehicles plus 20 owner-drivers.

A member of the prestigious Guild of Chauffeurs, Hilton-Ames offers business and private clients bespoke door-to-door service across the UK. With all-inclusive transport packages, the company can accommodate any request. ●

hiltonameschauffeurs.com